

Maxims and MRIs: Kantian Ethics and Empirical Psychology

Program

Friday, May 9

9:30-10:45: Heidi Maibom (University of Cincinnati) "Practical Reason in the Age of Neuroscience"?

10:45-11 break

11-12:15: Hanno Sauer (Tilburg University) "The Weakest Link. Realism, Debunking, and the Darwinian Dilemma"

12:15-1:45 lunch

1:45-3 Susan Dwyer (University of Maryland) "Is there a Junction for Judgment?"

3-3:15 break

3:15-4:30 Marijana Vujosevic (University of Groningen) "Conscience as the Specific Rational Deficit of Psychopaths"

4:30-4:45 break

4:45-6:00 Pauline Kleingeld (University of Groningen) "Debunking Confabulation: Emotions and the Significance of Empirical Psychology for Kantian Ethics"

6:30-9:00 conference dinner

Saturday, May 10

10:45-12:00 Joseph Heath (University of Toronto) "Why do People Behave Immorally When Drunk?"

12:00-1:45 lunch

1:45-3 Tom Bates (University of Groningen) "Mixed vs. Moderate Traits: On the Evaluative Status of Empirically Sound Character"

3-3:15 break

3:15-4:30 Patrick Frierson (Whitman College) "Character in Kant's Moral Psychology: Responding to the Situationist Challenge"

4:30-4:45 break

4:45-6:00 Jeanette Kennett (Macquarie University), "Reactive Attitudes, Reason, and Responsibility"