

15th Annual Philosophy Graduate Conference

Thursday, April 30 - Friday, May 1

PERSPECTIVES ON THE FIRST PERSON

The Philosophical Significance of the First-Person Point of View

THURSDAY KEYNOTE PRESENTATION:
CAROL ROVANE, Columbia

FRIDAY KEYNOTE PRESENTATION:
DAVID CHALMERS, NYU

PROGRAM

THURSDAY, APRIL 30TH

FRIDAY, MAY 1ST

FIRST LOCATION: AT THE CENTRE FOR ETHICS

LOCATION: JACKMAN HUMANITIES BDG.

Larkin Building, 15 Devonshire Place, Room 200

170 Saint George, Room 100

9:30-10:00: Coffee and Snacks

10:00-10:10: Greetings from Conference Organizers

10:10-11:10: Nathan Howard, University of Southern California: "Do Practical Judgments Require the First Person Point of View?"

Commentary: Dominic Alford-Duguid

11:10-11:30: BREAK

11:30-12:45: Shaunessy McKay, St. Thomas University: "Dying to Please You: The Obstinate Philosophical Issues"

Commentaries: Clinton Debogorski and Carolyn Shapiro

12:45-1:45: LUNCH BREAK (Light Lunch Provided)

1:45-2:45: Bernhard Salow, MIT: "Moral Luck and Retrospective Justification"

Commentaries: Eric Mathison and Christopher Bantle

2:45-3:30: BREAK AND CHANGING VENUE

SECOND LOCATION: AT THE JACKMAN HUMANITIES BDG

170 Saint George, Room 100

3:30-5:00: KEYNOTE DELIVERY: Prof. Carol Rovane, Columbia University

5:00-6:00: RECEPTION

9:00-9:30: Coffee and Snacks

9:30-11:30: PANEL: "Accounting for Underrepresented Perspectives in Philosophy and Academia"

Moderator: SuJung Lee

Panelists: Prof. Donald Ainslie, Charles Dalrymple-Fraser, Mariela Libedinsky, Shaunessy McKay

11:30-1:00: LUNCH BREAK

1:00-2:00: Philip Woodward, Indiana University: "The Acquaintance Argument for Intrinsic Intentionality"

Commentaries: Mason Westfall and Christian Spillane

2:00-2:15: BREAK

2:15-3:15: Fatema Amjeeb, University of Texas at Austin: "Nonsense and the First Person"

Commentaries: Lisa Doerksen and Joy Shim

3:15-3:30: BREAK

3:30-5:00 KEYNOTE DELIVERY: Prof. David Chalmers, New York University

THANKS TO OUR SPONSORS!

Aboriginal Studies
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Ethnic, Immigration, and Pluralism Studies
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Prof. Donald Ainslie

Prof. Luc de Nil,
Vice-Dean of Students

INSTITUTE FOR THE HISTORY AND
PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO